Editor:

I just wanted to express my and my wife Vicki's thanks and appreciation to all the people associated with the Quesnel Rotary Club.

The reason? Why, it was the splendid treatment and outing experience Aug. 31, our day's outing to and at Barkerville that was sponsored and hosted by this fabulous group of people.

We were treated like royalty with no expense spared. We even got to stop at Cottonwood House for coffee and goodies.

It was a great opportunity to meet up with other seniors and for all of us to share in what was a lot of fun in the bargain.

Other highlights included lunch soup, sandwiches, coffee or tea and all left with an ice cream cone in their hands from the various cafes around Wells.

After the lunch it was back onto the busses and it was all out for Barkerville. I am sure that we were more than double their guest population for that day. The special treat of the day, of course, was the visit to Theatre Royal where the troupe put on a happy and rollicking (if not a little naughty) show for all of us to enjoy.

This included lots of areas where we could all join in their fun. A good time was had by all.

After the show, tea and treats at various venues had us all ready for the trip home.

Before this we all gathered together for a group photograph outside and in front of the famous St. Saviour's Anglican Church, one of the oldest buildings in the restored town.

All were glad to climb aboard their bus (three of them) and relax and reminisce about this great day we all just experienced. A tip of the glass or is it a hat, and a toast of thanks and appreciation to the Rotary and all those responsible and involved in such a vast and splendid undertaking.

Oh yes, the weather and sunshine cooperated.

Thanks for everything, it was a really great day.
