January is “Rotary Awareness Month” about which I could go on for pages, but I will not. (I heard that!) By now, you should realize I believe in bottoms up and the club president being most important. However, step back and keep your family, especially your spouse, aware of what you are doing in Rotary and any changes as well as Rotary news. Share your club and district bulletins. Many good items in them, and many are useful.

Now, in your clubs: If you receive information as the president or a committee chair—SHARE IT! (Tom Rogers told me not to use all caps or an exclamation point, as you are all nice volunteers. That is true, but sometimes….) RI and many DGs and District officers research and send information to help you and your clubs. Some of you receive this as “mine” and keep it to yourself. “It was sent to me” (Believe me, I don’t make this up. Note: no exclamation point.) It is especially important for the club president to share, work with, and prepare those following, i.e., the president elect and vice president. Our successful organization should be a continuum not merely separate years of Service Above Self. (I hope you liked “continuum”—I did.)

The Rotary magazine - “Rotarian”- is also a great source of Rotary awareness. I leave mine in the powder room for visitors to read. (I know, you expected something more.) Even I was surprised when, over the Holidays, two separate guests commented on the article about the economy of Greece. Even if nothing is said, people will think “I didn’t know Rotary did that.”

Your Rotary pin, and wearing it every day is a great item for making others aware of your involvement. And, when someone asks about it, you get to tell one of your Rotary stories. Remember, if the public does not know much about Rotary, it is our own fault.

Perhaps the best Rotary awareness item in this high tech age is a quite low tech item: a Rotary card. Talking about Rotary? Asking for participation or a donation? Trying to interest a person in speaking at a meeting or attending one? Representing Rotary in any way? Just hand out your Rotary card and see the wonders it does. People may not want to admit it but they keep personal and business cards, and they refer to them. You will become the resource person for them regarding Rotary.

Rotary.org and the internet make us aware of so much more, but it is up to each one of us to know “about” these things, especially Rotary. For many of us, our depth of knowledge is extremely lacking. Even if we are not greatly involved, we still invest a great deal of time and money in Rotary. I did not say “spend”, rather, I said “invest” because you and those around you expect a return on those assets.

Perhaps, most of all, concerning Rotary Awareness, is Service Above Self. It is what we do and who we are. We do for ourselves by doing for others. Sometimes I need to admit I may be in Rotary for selfish reasons ----it makes me and others feel good, and I am aware of it. Are you?

Yours in Rotary Service and Awareness,

Gaven

Wonderful Response to “Sandy”

The clubs in District 7120 were requested by DG Gaven to participate, if they cared to, in Disaster Relief for Super Storm Sandy. The response was individual by club - and outstanding. The participation, some of which is continuing, resulted in more than two-thirds of the clubs in the District being involved and produced:

- More than $10,000 donated to the American Red Cross.
- More than $12,000 donated to District 7490 Walter D. Head Foundation for equal distribution to the six NY/NJ Rotary districts most impacted.
- More than $10,000 to other relief groups and Rotary clubs, plus donations of truckloads of cleaning supplies, generators, blankets, clothing, etc.

Included in the above is the generous amount of money donated at the Eastern Cities Fellowship Dinner by all those attending.

Corning Rotary Club Awards $5000 to Local Red Cross

The Corning Rotary Club donated $5000 to the Corning area Red Cross to assist in the relief efforts caused by the natural disasters in the New York City area and New Jersey. The donation check was presented to the Corning Area American Red Cross Executive Director Brian McConnell at the weekly Corning Rotary Club lunch held at the Corning Radisson.

Brian McConnell is quoted as saying, "The Corning Area American Red Cross extend a sincere thank you for the support that the Corning Rotary Club has given this organization throughout the years. The Corning Rotary Club has truly exemplified service, compassion and volunteerism in our area and throughout the world."

The American Red Cross coordinate mega shelters which are domed stadiums or convention center located in or near the affected areas. Each of these shelters provides housing, food and relief items to at most 1000 residents. The Red Cross also use the shelters as distribution centers of bulk food and other relief items that are needed in the disaster areas.

Barry Nicholson President of the Corning Rotary Club stated" Rotary International has a history of assisting those in need throughout the world. Unfortunately we have a need in our state and our neighboring state. We are pleased that this donation will assist the American Red Cross in providing food, shelter and other support to those who are homeless and in need.”
Rotary Really is International!

The International Interact Club, sponsored by the Rochester Northwest Rotary Club, is truly a reflection of the mission of Rotary International. Located in the new Rochester International Academy at the former Jefferson High School, the student members are all refugees from Afghanistan, Nepal, Eritrea, Somalia, Kenya, Vietnam and the Republic of Congo, who have been in this country for a short time – generally less than a year.

At a recent meeting, three committees were organized (Project, Webpage and College Exploration), leaders selected and goals defined.

The faculty advisor is Denise E. Doris and the Rotary Advisor is Mike Coniff, with Egzon Beha from AmeriCorps/VISTA.

Penfield Rotary learns about Rochester Career Mentoring Charter School

Elmira Heights Rotary Distributes Dictionaries

Dictionaries were also distributed to the third graders at the Cohen Elementary School in Elmira Heights.

Penn Yan Interact Recognized for Outstanding Service

Stephanie Owens, Peter Tomlinson, Heather Andersen, and Megan Sotir of the Penn Yan Interact Club receive a banner from PDG Jeff Krans on behalf of the Penn Yan Rotary Club. Jeff was the Rotarian sponsor for the Interact Club in 1989-90. The Penn Yan Club wanted a special way to recognize the outstanding service our area youth have provided consistently throughout their twenty-three years of activity, and the banner was just the ticket. At the meeting Sunday, December 16th, the members were writing holiday greetings for nursing home residents and collecting gift items for an area family finding themselves alone and without prospects of a bright Christmas, having fled domestic abuse.

It’s Snow!

DGE Imran Hassen and wife Anusha from Sri Lanka took some time to go tobogganing and sledding while visiting with PDG Jeff and Diane Krans. First time Anusha had ever seen snow and enjoyed winter fun - just part of what happens in the Governor Elect Hospitality Program! Thanks to the Brighton Rotary Club for spearheading this great international program.

All Aboard for Santa Claus

Working with Finger Lakes Railway, the Geneva Rotary Club recently brought Christmas cheer to hundreds of kids and families on the 14th annual Santa Train Express. Five hundred kids and their families rode the five Santa trains on Saturday, Dec. 1.

Santa and Mrs. Claus were aboard each train and visited with every child. Each child received a coloring book, a box of crayons, and a candy cane. A holiday sing-along was held during each trip and hot chocolate and light snacks were available.

Geneva Rotarian Lisa Toole Petronio reported that the Rotary Club’s annual Santa Train project raised $5,600 for the Club to donate to local youth programs and projects.

Many Rotarians, including the Rotary Interact members from Geneva High School and the Rotaract members from Hobart and William Smith Colleges helped with the Santa Train again this year. Athletes from the colleges helped park cars at the Geneva Public Safety Building, where the trains departed.

Rotary Entertains the Young at Heart

At a recent meeting at Steamboat Landing, Rotary presented Rich The-Magic-Man to kids and the young at heart. The event seems like an annual event for Rotary during the week that there is no school during the Christmas Holidays. From the first abracadabra to the last wow, the magic really came alive in the eyes of all the attendees.

Belmont Rotarian of the Month

“When I attended a Rotary meeting in 1981 and heard all of the things Rotary was doing for the Belmont community, I wanted to be a part of those accomplishments.” That meeting was a Rotary moment for John Maynard, and that year he became a member of the Belmont Rotary Club.

John Maynard was raised in Rochester, New York. After serving four years in the Navy as a medic, John worked at Strong Memorial Hospital in the radiology department. It was there that he met his wife, Diane, a Belmont native. The Maynard’s decided to return to Belmont to live and raise their children, Alan and Sarah. For twenty-one years they owned and operated Maynard’s Groceries and Gas, where customers could find a welcoming smile, and share bits of local news. For over twenty years, John served his community as a Town Councilman.

John Maynard has twice served as Belmont Rotary President. He has been a strong advocate for the Foundation, serving as the Chairman for over twenty-five years. Due to his diligence and leadership, the Belmont Rotary can boast not only the fact that we are a 100% Paul Harris Fellows Club, but we are also a 100% MULTIPLE Paul Harris Fellow Club! Sapphires for everyone! Great job, John.
